£9bn needed to deal with extra 267,000 people

By George Welsh

GOVERNMENT needs to find £9bn to cope with an influx of thousands of new people, homes and jobs expected by 2040.

The country's six authorities have submitted four priority papers as part of a bid for a share of a £10bn government funding pot to support LEP growth.

Top of the list includes commitments to the A34, rapid bus routes, linking key locations and a long-term AM strategy to boost connectivity. The East West Rail connecting Oxford and Cambridge, redevelopment of Oxford 2016 site, a new Gatwick Tower for 2020 – not to over-stress Gatwick – are also supported to boost connectivity infrastructure.

Proposals for more investment within the science sector to level and expand businesses will also be drawn up.

The independent report commissioned by Oxfordshire's commissioners – who together make up the Oxfordshire Growth Board (OGB) – laid out the need for the significant long-term investment to manage growth, support the local economy and protect quality of life.

Outgoing chairman of the OGB and leader of Oxfordshire County Council Clr Bob Phipps said: "Across the county, people want places to live, with a great environment, transport and other vital infrastructure to support them."

"We must continue to attract the necessary investment to the regions so that we can have the right infrastructure in place through to 2040 as that makes it businesses and residents confident to move."

Oxfordshire needs to accommodate an extra 253,000 new homes, 367,000 new people and 141,000 additional jobs between 2011 and 2040.

Incoming chairman of the OGB, Clr Bob Phipps, also leader of Oxford City Council, said: "It is really important that we give the infrastructure needed to support Oxfordshire and its growth."

"By having an integrated strategy that clearly shows the infrastructure needed to support future growth such as new housing, development, and new businesses, we stand a greater chance of securing the necessary funding to deliver what we require."

Patience tested by difficulty making GP appointment

DIFFICULTY in making appointments to see a GP at Oxford general practices has led to a health watchdog warning that the situation is likely to worsen.

Healthwatch Oxfordshire found the vast majority of people are very happy with the quality of care they receive from their GP and others at the surgery.

However, the frustration of having to wait for a regular appointment or out of hours care for these consultations is increasingly expressed. The report revealed patients would sometimes forgo early and evening appointments.

The report can be read at report.healthwatchoxford.co.uk

Recyclers get green light on plastic bags

RESIDENTS in the city and south and west of Oxfordshire can now use plastic bags to bin their household waste.

Organic waste binholders agree to use reusable bags from plastic bags. It is accepted that plastic bags, such as carrier bags, travel bags, paper shopping or garden bags.

Residents are also advised to use compostable bags, or to separate to line their bins and then, or get food straight in without any liner.

While food waste is recycled into gas for electricity and for other uses, food waste, say bags used in bins, will now be composted in the processing plant and used in composted soil in the local area.

These policies are available to residents living in the districts of Oxford City, South Oxfordshire, the Vale of White Horse and West Oxfordshire.

City of Oxford cabinet member for waste at 5000, said: "We have been successful in keeping our experience and really good in it's great. The city of Oxfordshire is a great place to live and the city of Oxfordshire is a great place to live."

"We are pleased to see residents for their efforts in recycling, which has helped us to achieve the highest recycling rate in the country."

Standing up to cancer on the Ridgeway walk

By George Walsh

OXFORDSHIRE residents may have spotted a puzzle of rascals and walking through the country this week.

Comedian Rik Mayall and his fellow volunteers are four days into a six-day trek across the Ridgeway to help with the Ridgeway - Britain's oldest, most famous and most famous

The comic, who took a more modest role in the event, is walking 100 miles along the Ridgeway to raise money for Stand Up To Cancer.

Among those joining in an opposition challenge this week will be Jo Smith, Liz Munn, Maria Khan and Maria Thomas.

However, Mayall is doing the recommended route to the east side - he is going to the opposite direction.

He said: "Most people walk the west to east because the wind is at your back, but I say, well, I'm a rebel - going Westward."

The going starts for Stand Up To Cancer and going the other way.

Rik Mayall and friends are making their way along the Ridgeway for Stand Up To Cancer

"This is the walking into the wind, my first time that I think like a dog barking out of their window - I look better, much better!"

He will complete the route of 100 miles on Monday just before the start of the Ridgeway on the north side of the Ridgeway.

The group have been coming to walk 10 miles a day, and arrived in Wotton Bassett on Tuesday.

He continued from there to stand by yesterday (Wednesday) and will end up at the busy stone circle in Wootton Bassett.

He, who described the Ridgeway as "a hidden gem," has raised more than 14,000 for Stand Up To Cancer which has been raising money for a new treatment and tests to patients faster.

He added: "Here's the route, it's just changing - a beautiful bit of old England which is surprisingly remote."

To give support, Stand Up To Cancer has a hotline, 0800 000 000, or a website at support.cancerhelp.co.uk

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is fill a 9x9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3x3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "regions" or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Gardeners' Questions

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with, nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long.

A Tinting your fence is a shameless and expensive task. It's also a losing battle. Wood simply won't be able to run. ColorSeal offers a low-maintenance alternative where by an occasional wash down will keep a looking great for up to 25 years! GUARANTEED!

The swimming pool at Richmond Village, a retirement village

Opening the door on luxury retirement living

Situated on the edge of the market town of Winsey, Gloucestershire, the recently completed Richmond Village Retirement Village is holding an Open Day on Saturday 5th August. From 10am to 4pm, visitors will have the chance to view the communal facilities and find out more about the Village Suites which come with a hotel style package.

"Since moving to our Village Suites some people have described it like living in a cruise liner or within a 5-star hotel," comments Mark Young, Senior Village Adviser of the new Richmond Village Retirement Village. "This is the type of living which we want to provide, independent living in your own apartment but with all the daily chores taken care of so that you can enjoy the better things in life."

Sometimes known as assisted living, the Village Suites at Richmond Village are situated within the main Village Centre building close to all the facilities including the restaurant, outdoor and Wellness Spa. The hotel style package includes all meals which are served at the restaurant or brought to your apartment, a daily maid service and all laundry. These Village Suites include en-suite bedrooms, lounge and kitchenette. Prices start at £255,000.

"Choosing which is best for Mum and Dad is no easy thing, an increasing number of families as the population ages, and one we hear all too frequently," says David Kaines, Head of Marketing at Richmond Village. "We believe the package for those in the Village Suites is unique, within the retirement village and housing market, and the Open Day will enable people to find out more, as well as a chance to view the apartment, the wonderful facilities.

Throughout the day there will be short presentations explaining what living in a Village Suite at Richmond Village is all about. There will also be the chance to meet some of the current residents as well speak to the Village Advisers and other members of staff such as those from activities, hospitality and care. Plus the Richmond Village hospitality team will ensure there are plenty of refreshments to keep visitors content."

There is no need to pre-book but if you would like to find out more information about the Open Day please call the Village Advisers. For more information on the Richmond Village Retirement Village, please call 01902 766072, richmondvillage.co.uk or winsey@richmondvillage.co.uk.

Simple steps homeowners can take now to protect their assets.

Head of April King Legal Paul King explains why some homeowners are doing too little, too late to protect their hard-earned assets.

Care Cost Free

"A lot of people are still unaware that if they need care in later life, their assets will be means-tested by the Local Authority to help pay for their care."

"The Local Authority will look to get the assets of a person until they get down to a lower limit of £15,750, when the Local Authority will take over the fees."

"For instance, my own grandmother sadly passed away recently at the age of 92. My grandfather had left many assets earlier and left everything to her."

"When she died one of the last few years of her life, because my grandfather had left everything to her, the house and all the assets were counted as the Local Authority's means test."

"Our clients tell us, 'We've worked hard all our lives, why should the Local Authority get it all?'"

"For as she died, she had gone down to the lower limit of £15,750 and so all her children inherited."

"There are many myths about the steps people can take to protect their assets from being taken like this."

"The main one is that a person should simply sign their houses over to the children's name so it won't be taken into consideration for means testing. That's just not true."

"Local Authorities will actually look to see if you've 'deliberately deprived' yourself of an asset by giving property away, going back over your period of time."

"Sometimes people think that if the gift is made more years prior than the house is sold. This is not so in the seven-year rule only applies to takes more Tax and not Local Authority care."

"The solution is for couples to simply not leave everything to each other in the last phase."

"When my grandfather died here down to leave her half of the house to trust to his children, stating that they couldn't have it while he lived, my grandmother was still alive. We call these Property Trust Wills."

"If any grandchild had left his half of the house to trust to the children then when my grandmother subsequently received care in her last life she would only have been paying based on her own half of the house, but my grandfather's half would have been safe."

"You should be able to contribute 4th half when he didn't receive any care?"

"The important factor is that couples need to act in advance. Once you really don't have needed energy through it, for example, then they are no longer in a position to do the legal and straightforward type of planning."

"It is therefore important for couples to act now even if they may not foresee care fees being so high."

Paul goes on to explain that most clients he sees are surprised to learn that many people create a Will and make the spouse next in line to inherit, ahead of their own children. Protecting your half of the house in this way, he suggests, ensures that your children's inheritance isn't when the survivor dies.

"Had my grandmother inherited after the death of my grandfather the whole estate could have passed straight on to the family," says Paul.

Lasting Power of Attorney

Paul explains how people often get confused thinking that because they have made a Will, their executors can also deal with assets if there is illness, stroke or some other form of incapacity while they are still alive.

"Everyone should actually have two documents – a Will that deals with their estate on death, and a Lasting Power of Attorney that deals with their assets during their lifetime," he says.

"There are two types of Lasting Power of Attorney – one deals with finance, the other deals with health and welfare."

"In many ways it's similar to a passport – a document that's replaced now and then, which can be physically handed in to the authority should the need arise."

"It allows the attorney, perhaps the children, to deal with the banks and pension companies as though that person became incapacitated, but also to deal with matters such as when the person should be living and how they should receive care."

"Your attorney, again perhaps your children, must legally act in your best interests at all times."

"You can choose a number of attorneys to act, either jointly or independently, and April King advises on the various options available."

"Couples are often surprised to discover that even joint bank accounts can be frozen until the bank sees sight of a Lasting Power of Attorney document."

"Having a Lasting Power of Attorney means the bank or children should still be able to happen further down the line."

"It helps a family deal with bank accounts and so on during a person's lifetime and causes no doubt."

"Crucially, you have to complete a Lasting Power of Attorney while you are still in good mental health."

"If someone becomes ill through age, stroke or dementia, that option is lost and the family would have to apply for a Deputyship Order from the Court of Protection – a drawn out and expensive process."

"It is therefore a good idea for clients to plan ahead and ensure any future bodies from the family."

"Once again, all adults should be thinking of this, particularly when there are children or a business involved."

"It's not just something to think about when you get older, but it's the challenge for us."

"People think, 'I'm not ill, why do I need to make a Power of Attorney?' But they're missing the point. This is a document that has to be done in advance."

Paul King, Head of April King Legal

"The Lasting Power of Attorney means it allows you to plan the estate you want to leave it."

"Once it's agreed, you don't have to worry if you don't develop some disability during illness. A house can be removed from the family if an elderly difficult case."

Beneficial Trust Wills

The majority of April King's clients have already made a will. "Mirror Will" with other firms before appointing the firm. A Mirror Will is when a couple leave everything to each other as the first death then to the children when the second partner dies. This modern family life means these types of Wills leave a lot to chance.

Explains Paul: "If I have a Mirror Will leaving everything to my wife and the children or just into my wife after my death then either the new husband or the Local Authority are likely to inherit most if not all of my estate if my wife dies."

"Even if my children are named in my Mirror Will, it is by no means certain that they will inherit anything."

"Once again, this is because a court might consider the Will my wife had previously made with me and make the new husband next of kin."

"This often comes to a big shock to my clients who had perhaps thought that all was as order and that the family bloodline would see my estate."

"The time is now for thinking that their names and/or grandchildren will one day benefit under a Mirror Will."

"If any of your children should be leaving everything to their husband or wife and the new in-law or daughter-in-law should then inherit, then your grandchildren would be the ones to lose out under the line of inheritance."

"Mirror will, someone else's grandchildren would be in line to receive the benefit of all your years of hard work."

"I've experienced that in my own family and I'm sure most people have had similar experiences on behalf of someone who has."

"Minimize your Will give greater protection to your children."

"These types of Wills not only give your children complete control and access to the inheritance they receive from you, they also grant added protection from the twists and turns of modern family life."

"The wording in your Wills states that my money left over on my death must pass to my children born of them – your grandchildren."

Award-winning Matilda on way

By Samantha McGregor

A BRILLIANT winner of the Royal Shakespeare Company's production Matilda the Musical has been announced.

For Dorsetshire residents, the award winner will be Milly Kaynes - just across the border.

The show goes on tour from March next year and will be staged at Malvern Theatre, from June 6 to June 10. This is the first UK tour of Matilda the Musical, which has won 10 major national awards, including the Best Musical.

It is the story of an extraordinary little girl who, against a vivid background, ends up changing her own destiny.

Inspired by Roald Dahl's world-famous book, Matilda the Musical was commissioned by the Royal Shakespeare Company and premiered at the RSC's Courtyard Theatre in Stratford-upon-Avon in November 1997. It ran in October 1998, where it opened to rave reviews.

Colborne Malvern, RSC's gateway district, said: "We are thrilled to welcome a new musical, which started life after a seven-year gestation in Stratford-upon-Avon. Its success has led to a global phenomenon."

"Following Matilda's successful run on Broadway, our current tour around North America, Australia and New Zealand, and premiere into our sixth year at the Cambridge Theatre in London's West End, it is fantastic that we can share Matilda with audiences across the UK and in Ireland. "In collaboration with our UK touring partners we will also deliver a programme of ground-breaking education projects to enable young people around the country to discover Matilda, sharing the actress story power of story-telling, and the boundless creativity of their imaginations." Tickets for Milly Kaynes will go on sale on April 26. For more information visit uktickets.com/dorsetshire-lyceum-theatre.

Poignant story that must be told

By Samantha McGregor

All Ireland's New Theatre gains up to the Christmas production War Horse, a poignant re-enactment of the story of a horse.

A new short story by Michael Morpurgo, the best-selling author of War Horse, will be performed on Edgmont's stage this month to mark the centenary of the Third Battle of Ypres.

The war has been especially written for the national commemorations on Sunday.

Reading the story live, Morpurgo will be accompanied by the music from the play. The play is the National Theatre stage adaptation of War Horse, which comes to the New Theatre Oxford this Christmas from December 11.

The commemorations will also feature extracts from The War Horse, the play by Lisa Hildip and first performed in the national theatre's production of the play.

Images from the War will be projected onto the town's Clock Wall, which was famously destroyed and later rebuilt.

Readings of literature with First World War themes and first-hand accounts from soldiers, women and loved ones will also be read out and projected onto the Clock Wall.

Here, the much-loved puppet War Horse will be on Sunday's commemorative programme.

Mr Morpurgo said: "It's our job to help us in our shared war."

"It is ever more important in this complex world for young people to know the roots of their history. We are looking to take for granted war experience and our rights. It is easy to forget that so many of those who came before us fought and died to defend the freedoms we enjoy today."

"We are now a hundred years on from the battle of Passchendaele, one of the most appalling battles of the First World War. It is a moment to reflect on their lives, and on the terrible nature of that war and all that went, and on the importance of never losing peace. They fought for our peace. That is what we must not forget, which is why we must continue to tell the story to pass it on."

War Horse is staged at Oxford's New Theatre from December 11 and January 4. For more information visit www.newtheatreoxford.co.uk

Chapter begins for new publishers

A NEW independent publishing house is being launched in Oxford this month.

The company Fairlight Books, says it will be the source of new high-quality fiction. It will consist of a collection of writers and editors. The publisher of the first book is London-based author Helen Storey.

Set up by author and business woman Jane Dwyer, she says she aims to showcase the very best of new and emerging writers.

She said: "Starting up a new business is always exciting, but it is an uphill and business venture which involves a lot of hard work and a lot of passion."

She is hoping to establish a dialogue of books, photo books and digital, and she hopes Fairlight Books will be a vibrant source of guaranteed quality and integrity.

The publisher aims to give a lot of attention to new writers and to the highest quality fiction.

Among the other authors who have signed up to the new publisher are John Linn Langdon, author of South African Tales.

ENTERTAINMENT & LEISURE

TV's Joe spins movie magic

By Samantha McGregor

SHOCK! Inspector Jack X Factor was Joe McElhinney's magic has done to Oxford-like music.

Earlier Night At The Movies Live stars Joe at his best performing a string of favourite songs on the stage and screen.

His national tour also celebrates his new album, Joe's Music, which is also called Saturday Night in the UK, and includes his new single, Ultraviolet.

The concert will also feature some special guests who will perform alongside Joe.

Joining him on stage at the New Theatre, Oxford, on Friday, August 2, at 8pm, is X Factor's Sam Collins and Jay Line on Will Be. The comedy duo, Keith Jack and Ben James-Allen, who have all, like Joe, featured in the musical phenomenon, Joe's Music and the Yesterday (Dance).

Joe's performance on the side role of Joseph has had more reviews and also had two new musicals in the making, which was released in February.

During his time on the X Factor, Joe was mentored by Cheryl Cole and went on to win the sixth series in 2011.

His first single, The Chords, reached number one on the UK Singles Chart and number one in Ireland.

His next is to release four albums, two of which are already in the studio, and has sold millions of records worldwide.

He originally auditioned for X Factor in 2007 and made it to the final, but he was too young and left the show. He returned two years later and the rest is history.

Joe went on to take part in the second series of Digging in the Garden in 2012 and the first series of The Jump in 2014 and was back.

The following year, 2013, he took on the role of Joseph in the touring production of the book Joe's Music and The X Factor musical Joe's Music and the Amazing Technicolor Musical.

Idlewild fromman heads to Oxford

IDLEWILD fromman Roddy McDermott, pictured, is to stop off in Oxford during his newly announced UK tour.

Roddy, the singer-composer and frontman for Scottish indie outfit Idlewild, will be performing at Oxford's C21 Academy on September 18.

The tour coincides with the release of his new solo effort, The Collection, which will be available from September 1, while the first track to be released will be Asylum.

On the evening, Roddy said: "The song actually started out as something I was writing up for good with my son, who at eight years old is quite interested in astronomy, looking at it with my band who are 16 adults. A devil inspired lockdown home learning the engineers and the place is inspired in things we don't fully understand."

SUNSHINE CAT RESCUE

We have lots of beautiful cats and kittens in need of a loving home.
If you would like to adopt, check out our website www.sunshinecatrescue.org.uk for details of all our cats & kittens, or phone Lou on 01993 831279.

Thank you for caring.

Dogs Needs a Holiday too

As you can see before we went for our first holiday, it is not surprising that many dog owners find it uncomfortable if the thought of going away without their best friend is not, especially if it is a long time away.

Wagging Tails provide a better than home dog boarding service where dogs stay with our close friendly vetted carers as a member of the family for their very own holiday. All of these carers are experienced dog owners and are at home during the day to give the dogs the warmth and comfort they would get at home, along with plenty of exercise and attention.

Dog carers wanted to give dogs a better holiday, like our family of dog owners.

Due to the popularity of our service, they are always interested to hear from dog lovers looking to join their team of carers.

If you have experience of owning a dog, but can't find yourself without any gaps. Once providing a loving home by becoming a Wagging Tails carer you can have a fun and rewarding time for you and the dogs in your care. Alternatively perhaps you can see the dog who would enjoy the company of a holiday party.

This role is ideal for someone who is already working from home, home which allows for early contact.

And the benefits.

Companionship

You will get all the benefits of companionship of being without the constraints of full time ownership.

Healthcare Lifestyle

Having a dog to play obviously means walking, but in addition to this studies have shown that owning a dog can also improve mood, decrease stress, lower blood pressure, can change your diet to improve diet and lifestyle and increase confidence.

Social

Caring a dog a holiday doesn't mean you only spend time with the dog. You will meet the owners of each dog who stays with you as well as other carers. When you walk your guests a something that often leads to good friendships with fellow dog lovers.

Financial

In addition to the all the above benefits you will also receive a fee for welcoming your holiday guests into your home. Whilst it must be stressed that this will not replace a full time income, it can provide our carers with enough to pay for a nice holiday of their own and those little extra expenses that we all incur.

If you think you could welcome a dog into your home or would like further information about our service, please call Susan on 01993 831279 or visit www.waggingtails.co.uk or info@waggingtails.co.uk

Who Cares?

Take a moment to give thanks on the way to the train!

If you're in Oxford take a stroll through Finsbury Square by the railway station where, until the end of August, you'll find a series of photographs by Oxford-based photographer Peter Morrissey titled 'The Gratitude Project'. These are 'The Gratitude Project' and some part of the Oxford Festival of Arts.

Peter asked British-born people to think of people from overseas who have made their home in Oxford to whom they are grateful. The photos show such people very much at an informal living like own here, enjoying relaxation with those around them and making a contribution to the well-being of others. And with these images, Peter hopes to encourage us all to look again at the people from outside the UK who live here and for many, form an important part of our local community.

Hardworking volunteers who wanted to thank people from India, Germany, Columbia, Ireland and other places, who have come to the UK to study, to help to support – and to make friends, explore. Then who stopped running and doctors, scientists and teachers, small business owners and those involved in helping others in a myriad of ways. And several of the photos feature scenes alongside the people to whom they make such a difference. The gratitude felt by those they support is clear both in the image itself – after all a picture tells a thousand words – and in a hand-written thank you message.

You'll meet, for example, Ildiko from Hungary who works as a carer and assistant for Lucy Gardner, who is currently a student at Finsbury College. Oxford and on site of the Oxfordshire Deafness Empowerment Group. Lucy has multiple sclerosis type 1, a condition which is a chronic illness characterised by loss of nerve cells and frequent cognitive functions and when upon additional support from Ildiko to maintain his independence. To Ildiko, he writes: 'The friendship we have has brought me much joy. I am very grateful for your care.

Another photo shows Ildiko, a carer and caregiver from Hungary who has spent the last 20 years here. He is pictured arm-in-arm with the young man he supports. They are in the morning, smiling and are going and smiling about the future. So, thank you my family. You and I make a great team.

And these poignant photos remind us of that being part of a family, a community or other good team providing support, friendship and joy is something always to be grateful for. As one of our team members said just recently: 'It's not what we have in life, it's who we have in our life that matters.'

Oxford is one of 13 UK cities experiencing lower growth in house prices than a year ago

Neil Cooper
Managing Director of Oxford and
Co. Oxford

The town's five years a lower rate of growth rate than a year ago with London, Bristol and Oxford recording the greatest slowdown in affordability and political uncertainty impact demand.

The average price of a house in the UK's largest cities increased by 3.5 per cent in the 12 months to June 2011, but growth in London slowed to 2.6 per cent, the lowest rate for more than five years.

This annual growth in sales from 3.5 per cent and recorded in June 2011 year although it is still higher in larger northern cities such as Birmingham, Manchester and Edinburgh, according to the figures from the latest HomeTrack index house price index.

Growth is the first half of 2012 changed from 6.2 per cent in Aberdeen to 4.1 per cent in Birmingham and while price growth is higher in some cities, the rate of the economy compared to June 2011 are more modest.

Prices in Cambridge were up 19 per cent in February 21 per cent in London and 2.4 per cent in Manchester and 2.7 per cent in Oxford.

Second house price growth in large regional cities has pushed house prices ahead of their 2007 peak, a 16 of the 28 cities covered by the index.

Looking ahead to the second half of 2011, the report suggests that even such a material house price growth across south eastern Deciding what's best for you – to move or improve?

For many the month of July and August are a time to pack their bags and head to summer homes with their families while for others it's a time to simply take a step back from work and evaluate things closer to home.

The better weather is often cited to encourage DIY jobs while some people take advantage of a much deeper discount rate on whether they have offers close everything they require.

Questions around what to do in August have many improvements before winter and the Christmas season and it is something against which a service can be made available to be the better option.

The outcome of these deliberations will often be based on personal need and preference, but there are some considerations which you should include in your thinking before making a potentially costly or disruptive decision.

What is your end goal? Start by asking yourself what is most important – do you want to create extra living space, move to a more desirable area or be closer to family, friends or facilities? Are you happy with where you currently live? Does your home meet both your current and future needs? Does either a move or an extension make sense for you with that? These are all important questions to ask.

If you opt to stop just consider whether the home improvements you have planned add real value to your home. A new kitchen, for example, may not increase your home's appeal but a utility room extension will.

England, house price inflation is holding up despite the uncertainty on real wages and uncertainty around the economy.

At the end of 2010 HomeTrack predicted that city house price growth over 2011 would be 4 per cent but for current trends the five most likely to be 10 per cent or more are 10 per cent or more, 10 per cent or more, 10 per cent or more, 10 per cent or more, 10 per cent or more.

Cities such as Bristol, Oxford and Cambridge are among slower growth but this is probably due to price, being down strongly over the last couple of years, leaving the gap with average savings and improving affordability for many people. Major urban areas are also where adding extra space by top of a hill conversion or rear extension is more likely to have a positive impact on your home's future value.

Remember though that inside the most of your expenditure you should engage with skilled contractors who will be able to see where the real potential lies and ensure that the extension works not just for you but for future buyers too.

If you do decide to move, you'll need to consider whether an established house is more built to last for you. Also, this will be a decision influenced by personal preference but you may wish to ask yourself some of the following questions:

Do you want to move to a family friendly property with all the amenities and so on to consider an off-plan property for the foreseeable future or would you prefer more of a 'project' where you can put your own mark on plans, gradually with some in hand in the future?

Are issues of energy efficiency a consideration for you, or do you long for a home which makes perfect sense?

Do you want to be in an established community with amenities such as shops, schools, and so on, or a planned development area?

These considerations may reach the surface of what you'll need to decide when weighing up the pros and cons of both improving and moving, and further advice can be sought from your local authority or a local estate agent or a local estate agent.

broader for reduced demand from foreign investors for places in their portfolios.

It is a worrying warning and the results clearly that the headlines sometimes mask the fact that it is a reduction in growth in demand in an absolute reduction in house sales.

At 21 per cent Oxford house price growth is the highest in the south, but continued to grow slowly, not enough to keep pace with the affordability gap for many people. Facing many to live outside of the city, many are looking to the Oxford housing market for a way to live in the city. Oxford is a city of the city, many are looking to the Oxford housing market for a way to live in the city. Oxford is a city of the city, many are looking to the Oxford housing market for a way to live in the city.

Pre-season friendlies and all the latest transfer news from the U's

Experienced Williamson signs for U's

OXFORD United have signed former Newcastle United and Blackburn Rovers (see Wednesday's back page) Wilf Williamson on a one-year deal.

The 32-year-old defender completed the move after being on trial at the club since their pre-season tour to Birmingham last July.

The experienced centre-half is set to feature for the U's due to recent knocks picked up at the Alanbarns, but that hasn't deterred manager Pop Charlton.

Charlton said: "Wilf has played a lot of games at the top level and is a very good defender. He is a good officer and organised and a decent professional."

What is more, he'll bring a lot to the team in starting areas with the quality he possesses in the build-up phase.

"He has been working hard with us the pre-season and stepped up when we needed him. He is a good player and a solid player and he will be an asset to us."

Oxford already have four defenders in the top of captain Chris Cohen, Aaron Murray, Charles Hughes and now signing from Kilmarnock.

Williamson, who has enjoyed 14 seasons at the top level, was part of the U's squad that won the Championship title in 2006/07.

He said: "I have thoroughly enjoyed my experience. It is a great set up, the staff and players have made me feel very welcome and everything seems to be going really well. It is a very successful season."

"There is a serious competition for places in defence but that can only be good for the team and I want to push on, get playing again, and be part of a winning team."

He made a total of 100 appearances in a Newcastle shirt before joining them in October 2003 after a spell at the U's.

The 6ft 4in defender made his debut for the West Midlands side in January 2004 but was released the summer after injury complications.

On the Checkatrade trophy trail again

THIS drama will feature details the Oxford United's 2009/10 Checkatrade Trophy campaign have been recorded.

Pop Charlton's side were drawn in Southern Section Group 1 with Stevenage, Kilmarnock and Boreham Wood. The U's are a runaway side.

Oxford, who finished first in the last two seasons, kicked their season away at Stevenage on Tuesday, August 24. They then play Kilmarnock in the following Premier League new boys League 1 friendly on at Tuesday, October 3 and Mill Town on Tuesday, November 7.

Both teams games kick off at 7.45pm. The kick-off time for the trip to Stevenage is yet to be confirmed.

Prices for the Kilmarnock matches have been reduced to £10 for adults with concessionary rates of £5 for children, under-16s and under-13s £3, and under-10s £2.

NEW manager Pop Charlton admitted he was surprised despite Oxford's win in their first match as champions of Oxford United in the Kilmarnock.

The U's first 1-1 draw in Championship side Brentford in a high-scoring thriller – but the Oxford manager was happy with his team's progress.

Charlton, who has been in charge for less than a month, said: "I do not get much experience in the match because I was in a good position to see the game from the inside."

"I was very happy because Brentford were able to highlight some of the weaknesses that we have in our defence."

"All the same time we were able to create some problems for them and we had a lot of positive points, especially in the first half."

Brentford were strong from the off as Wednesday night last week and took the lead in a sixth minute. Vibe, Joe (loan) and Sergio Cansino (loan) scored penalties after keeper Scott Shearer replaced the injured James Henry.

The U's double-back advantage was a factor later when right-back Joe (loan) scored a second goal.

Pop Charlton said he was surprised despite Oxford's win in their first match as champions of Oxford United in the Kilmarnock.

From left, Murphy Johnson, Kane Morrison and James Henry score of the three scorers for Oxford match again on the right to score for Lasse Vibe to bring home the first goal. But the U's already thought back from the two-goal deficit thanks to a Kane Morrison penalty before half time and a Kane Morrison strike shortly after the break.

After Henry did it in the back post to convert a double cross from close range and more United 3-1 lead on the hour mark.

The visitors responded by giving Joe (loan) and cleared the net after both sides made wholesale changes. Joe (loan) made his first start for the U's in a 1-1 draw with Stevenage on Tuesday. Lasse Vibe's side lined up with a double-line front back from 30 yards in 77 minutes before Sergio Cansino scored the winner three minutes later when he powered on United's only save.

But Charlton said he was unhappy the result, adding: "The very happy 1-1 score line will be 3-1 per cent against. Oxford is in the top of the league as of August 14."

Dwight's happy to be back playing football

OXFORD United said he is ready to be back in action after missing his Oxford United debut against Stevenage last night.

The 31-year-old left-back played the whole of the second half – and his first start at Oxford – in a 1-1 draw with Stevenage last night.

Dwight, who has been capped twice by the Football Federation, played the whole of the second half in a 1-1 draw with Stevenage last night.

He said: "I'm enjoying playing football again. I'm a football player and football players want to play football."
